

The Project works passionately to provide a culture and environment where individuals who are at risk of exclusion or who have been excluded from mainstream school can re-engage and thrive.

M* is a brilliant testament of how well the ethos of the project can work when helping students develop both socially and emotionally. M* has reconnected with the joy of learning in a relaxed and nurturing setting, taking part in both outdoor activities and animal-assisted learning. Because of this fantastic progress, M* is now progressing into mainstream schooling where we are positive he will be able to build on his social and emotional growth and begin thriving academically.

M*'s huge grin and infectious humour will be missed dearly by all staff and students at the farm. Please join us in celebrating this success and wishing M* all the best for the future.
